DRODUCE the highest Class AERATED WATERS in the Far East on account of their High Class Machinety and also of the superior ingredients they use in the manufacture of their goods, and the cleanliness, &c., are all under strict supervision of Europeans only.

HINCHLIFFE, LIMITED, Aerared Water Engineers and Chemists, Manchester, visited our factory recently in the course of a tour amongst Eastern Aerated Water Makers, and was greatly surprised at the compactness of our factory and also the methodical way in which everything pertaining to the making of Aerated Waters was carried out. He also expressed himself strongly on the absolute cleanliness of our whole establishment, which he assured us was equal to any he had yet visited and superior to a great many. He also reported that the quality of our goods was of a first class nature, and they showed that scrupulous care was exercised in the course of their manufacture.

The slowest of the Russian vessels, the Rurik, was the object of a sharp fire. The Rossia and Gromobol, being pressed by the Japanese, who were formed in a T shape, caught fire several times.

The Rurik began to sink by the stern, on which the Takachiho and Naniwa (3,727 tons each) approached her, and the other Japanese pursued the enemy; but upon the total sinking of the Rurik, they assembled and rescued about 600 Russians. The Japanese casualties were over a hundred.

Tokio, 18th August, Admiral Kamimura, being interviewed at the Journalists' Club, Sascho, said that when he was on his way back from a reconnoitring cruise, he found the Vladivostok squadron ahead of him to the southward, at 5 o'clock in the morning of the 14th inst. in fine weather. Trouble with France at Inkao. Tientsin, 6th August.

The Japanese Military Administrative Commissioners have applied to the French Consul to remove the French flag on the Russian Consulate at Inkao. The French Consul appears to have claimed the right of flying his flag on the building on the plea that he had been appointed Honorary Consul for Russia. The question is still unsettled. On August 4 a Russian woman arrived at Inkao from Tientsin. The Japanese refused to permit her to live the city for reasons which they made known her. It is alleged that the French Consul tried ta take her away with him, whereupon both are said to have been detained.

"SEALED PESOS."

Every one knows that Mexican silver dollars circulate in the Far East, especially in China. But it seems the Mexican minting is not enough of a certificate of character. A peso that has be the ravages of disease from infancy to old long been in circulation in China is covered age. It is both a food and a medicine,with Chinese characters. The bankers, of whom there are hundreds in China, who receive Mexican dollars affix to them their seals to guarantee their legitimacy, and as pesos circulate and go from one bank to another they are being, marked by all banks which receive them. The decision to seal pesos was taken because illegal coins began to circulate in China .- S.F. Call.

SUICIDE IMPULSE AT SEA.

Births, marriages and deaths are very common at sea; cases of suicide although not materially swelling the records of deaths, are by normans infrequent. It often happens that mental depression is accentuated by the vastness and solitude of the ocean. The sense of loneliness, helplessness and insignificance has been known to develop into snicidal tendencies. Strangely enough, during an actual tempest the sense of self-preservation seems to overpower the desire for self-destruction. Some months ago a young lady on board; a steamer bound for a Canadian port evinced much apprehension as to her safety during a violent storm. Less than two days later, when the sea was calm and sailing conditions pleasant, she climbed over the bulwarks and threw herself into the ocean, The fascination of watching the swift flow of water from the propellers at the stern of a vessel is a well-known cause of suicids. Even sailors who have gazed down at the surging stream have been overcome with the morbid impulse to leap into it. In the Red Sea and Indian Ocean, Lascars, mad with heat, have leaned out of the engine-room and at a bound have dived overboard, never to be seen again. Lack of success in America or Australia has driven many an emigrant to seek oblivion in suicide. Two cases occurred last year of unsuccessful men who drowned themselves when in sight of the old country.- London Mail.

MOTHERS SHOULD KNOW. The troubles with multitudes of girls is a want of proper nourishment and enough of it. Now-a-days they call this condition by the learned name of Anemia. But words change no facts. There are thousands of girls of this kind anywhere between childhood and young ladyhood. Disease finds most of its victims among them. They are too weak and frail to resist. Some of them are passing through the mysterious changes which lead up to maturity and need especial watchfulness and care. Alas, how many break down at this critical period: the story of such losses is the saddest in the history of home. The proper treatment migh have saved most of these household treasures,

In building up pale, puny, emaciated children, particularly those stroubled with Anemia, Scrofula, Rickets, and Bone and Blood diseases, nothing equals it; its tonic qualities are of the highest order. A Medical Institution says: "We have used your preparation in treating children for coughs, colds and inflammation; its application has never failed us in any case, even the most aggravated bordering on pneumonia. The children like it, and it builds up their bodies; many little children owe their lives to it." The more it is used the less will modern, scientific, and effective from the first dose. It never deceives or disappoints, and is the medicinal triumph of our time. "There is no doubt about it." Sold by chemists.

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1904.

A REJOINDER.

In one of our issues of recent date appeared an article on the indifferent marks manship on the China Station in which it was stated, by a writer at home, that the poor gunnery of our own men-of-war in these waters had escaped notice. He urged the institution of a prompt and searching inquiry into the causes of the bad performance, and asked how long were we going to permit the gun sight of our fleet to remain in an unsatisfactory condition. We have seen that, compared with last year's return, the ships of the squadron are making very indifferent practice in prize firing, and in proof of the assertion it has been pointed out that the firing of the battleship Ocean, which, in 1903, when she had been in commission but a few months, was infinitely better than is the case this year. In fact, her shooting in 1903 was so good that the Naval Commander-in-Chief Devonport informed the officers and men that the Admiralty had expressed their approbation of the consistent care and attention to gunnery which must have been shown by them during the vessel's last commission in China, resulting in steady improvement in prize firing until, in that year, the Ocean stood first in the Navy with both rain. and 6-in. guns. A naval correspondent, who has had and still has, exceptional facilities for studying the question and of watching the prize-firing of the different ships of the China squadron, has read the [35] article in our columns and while not taking exception to its substance points out that in naval gunnery one must not omit to take several points into consideration. Apart from the fact that vessels carry out firing in all sorts and conditions of weather, in prize shooting, only distinct hits count, and as the new target, some twenty feet by thirty feet, is placed 2,400 yards or more away and is fired at from a ship steaming upwards of ten knots some idea can be formed of the requirements for efficient shooting. We recollect on one occasion being present during a competition, and seeing ships make very poor averages with the size of an ordinary ship, ninety out of every hundred shots would have penetrated her hull. Whatever results are obtained by the gunners of the navy there seems to be no question that, if the Admiralty would see its way to add to the pecuniary reward efficient firing, the highly skilled shots, such as the late Petty Officer Grounds, would be greatly increased.

THERE have been many rumours affoat concerning the rebellion in Kwangsi; some have been to the effect that the rebellion has come over the borders into Hunan, that the Taotai at Hengchow has called for soldiers to better protect the southern part of the province against the rebels. Two weeks ago there were several hundred soldiers, well equipped with modern rifles and large quantities of ammunition, it is said they were on their way to Kwangsi through Hunan to put down the rebellion. committed in various houses in Ripon Terrace, which for a time quite baffled their best efforts. to run to earth the culprits. However, a with full description of the articles stolen, was circulated to the various pawnshops about town with the result that, Li Shing, was detained while trying to pawn one of the stolen articles, a silver-backed hand mirror. When arrested be immediately gave his confederate away, and he was also gathered into the fold. Asked by the police when they committed the burglaries, the first defendant said, "You thought it was done at night, and so kept a strict watch theo, and while you watched the houses we watched you. But we did not do it at night, we watched to see the inmates go to the tiffin-room, then we went into the bedroom." This man added that while his friend went into the houses at tiffin. time he "did police duty" outside, to give the alarm; that, and taking the things to the pawn arrived at New York on 21st inst.

THE HONGKONG BLECTRIC TRAMWAYS CO. LTD.,

CHINESE RICKSHA WALLAHS.

The working of the Hongkong Blectric Tramways Co., Ltd., leaves a great deal to be desired, both from the foreign and native points of view. We cannot be accused of pessimism at this recent stage of the game, when tramways and electric truction are not understood by our indispensible co-adjutors, the Chinese. Far be it from us to denounce a new British enterprise. On the contrary we hail its advent with pleasure. But their system is opposed to reason, and they run the cars on a basis which is possibly unparalleled. A car going Quarry Bay-wards may be first class shead on the outward journey, but on the return trip the first-class passengers sit in the vacated Chinese seats. Now, a further difficulty arises. It seems by section 50 of the Ordinance, only Chinese are allowed to travel third class. At the Police Court this morning two Portuguese children were charged with travelling "third class" in a compartment reserved for Chinese, and refusing to pay first class fare. It seemed that the accused offered to pay third class fare, and refusing; to be further mulcted, allowed the trolley Company to proceed against them. Mr. Gomperiz, the First Magistrate, thought it was rather strange that some one on behalf of the Company was not present to ar, ue the point, and, accordingly, adjourned the hearing for a couple of days. The case has excited considerable indignation locally, for the section of the Ordinance, from the Tram Company's standpoint, precludes a poor Indian bearer or dhobie from weeks ago she was charged at Hanley Police | using the trams except at full rates. Numerous cases have occupied the attention of the police since the installation was carnestly recognised. In any event the Company is lax in method, and could with ease be improved. bride being given away by the police court The Chinese ricksha pullers are refusing to accept ordinary fares, and only recently an reform, and a few days later she was arrested | English lady had to give three nien in charge. They told her in plain (or it might have been coloured) Chinese, that they did not want her the same magistrates again, in her married five cents and the could take the tram. This name of Parton, she pleaded hard for "another state of things is becoming intolerable, and unless the Tram Company makes several changes there is bound to be trouble for the man in the street. We don't want to put up with inconvenience until such time as the trams are in a position to run properly. We have suffered enough in Hongkong, without allowing the Company to become an infliction. As things are, our ricksha puller is preferable.

S.S. " CRANLEY."

The s.s. Cranley, which stranded at Ukaichi about seven hours from Kobe, Japan, on the toth ulto .: and has been refloated, arrived in Hongkong this inorning for the purpose of being docked and repaired. The vessel, belonging to the Century Shipping Co., was caught on the 10th ulto. in a typhoon and stranded, but as she went on a soft, sandy shore she did not sustain much damage. Several plates, were strained, and part of the frame, but this is believed to be more due to strenuous efforts made to cet her off. At the time when she went ashore there were some other five vessels also stranded in the vicinity. The s.s. Cranley is a steel, screw steamer of 4,614 registered tonnage, Captain Sheldrick, and after her docking and repairs, will be fitted out for the coolie emigration trade to South Africa, for which service she has been chartered, to follow the s.s. Lothian.

FLOUR FOR JAPAN.

Mr. Suttor, the Commercial Agent in the East, reports to the Minister for Agriculture, N.S.W., that Messrs, W. H. Gill & Co., of Kobe, will gladly take in New South Wales flour if it can be supplied at suitable prices. Mr. Suttor says the quotation for American "Straight Club Grade" has been at £7 15s. per ton c.i.f., and "Blue Stem" at £8 per ton c.i.f. The Commercial Agent suggests that flourmillers and merchants catering for the East should adopt trade marks that are likely to be easily recognised, and each trade mark could be registered for the Japanese market by the firm in question. It is very important, he says, to always keep up the standard of the flour that may be registered under any trade mark, and special attention is invited to this matter.

FLOATING EXHIBITIONS.

In the North China Daily News of the 19th inst, a correspondent, evidently writing from personal observation, advocates the. "floating exhibition" as an advertising medium on the inland waters of China. There is nothing, he says, to prevent enterprising merchants to purchase or hire small steamers and fit them up with show cases in which firms could arrange to exhibit goods and send one of them at least on a trial trip. He points out that niany of the manufacturing firms at home would be willing to send their agents here small working models of machinery and industrial plant to place in a floating exhibition, if the matter were taken up seriously and backed by Consuls, Chambers of Commerce, and the China Association.

A working model if shown to Chinese sufficient to impress upon their minds the usefulness of the article of which it is a model, and then an ingenious interpeter can persuade the Chinese that such machinery, instrument; or plant has in some roundabout way been referred to in the classics and that the local merchant should go in for this modification of an old Chinese idea.

Demonstrations to local officials, bankers, and merchants would make them familiar wi the goods and brands, or chops, and we know that familiarity breeds custom and custom begets business There may be nothing in the idea and yet there may be a lot, at least the. cost would be little and no possible injury could accrue to any class of business by trying to push wares in this-the simplest way. A few energetic taipans could soon find ways and means for a trial experiment.

THE PRICE OF LANGKAT OIL.

A Taiping correspondent recently forwarded the following letter to the Perak Pioneer:-It does seem ridiculous that the price of Langkat oil should be $1.75 as charged by a shop in Taiping, when it is to be had at the Shell Trading Co.'s oil tanks for 75 cents without, or 90 cents with the tin. This information was given me by the engineer in charge a few days ago. This, coupled with the fact that the dollar is worth practically 2 shillings, should induce the oil-consuming public of Taiping to club together and import their oil from the oil not backward in coming forward in the matter however still finds Bellevilles undesirable, and of raising their pices when the dollar was at "one and six "1 It behaves them now to make a corresponding reduction or take the conseddences!

THE WAR.

STRIKING EPISODE

A thrilling account of the attempted escape of a Japanese crew from the harbour of Port Arthur, after they had sunk a merchant ship in the roadstead, is given by a Russian correspondent, who describes the incident as one of the most striking episodes of the war. "From one of the merchant ships destined to block Port Arthur," he writes, "a little boat put out with a crew of eight men. Their oars were raised as a salute. 'It is impossible for us to leave them alive,' said an officen 'because they will show the way into the harbour to our enemies.' Thousands of shells and bullets commenced to fall around the little boat. But the men with the oars did not falter, they continued to work quietly. 'They will escape ! was the exclamation of an officer. Oh, no. How is it possible? was the reply. The boat suddenly shot behind one of the merchant ships, and we imagined how it was directing its course at the rear of the black mass. As soon as their oars reappear in the open space they will provide an easy mark. In the struggle of a little boat to escape from hundreds of machine guns and heavy guns there is real tragedy. Even those who strive to reach them with bullets unconsciously think, 'I should like them to escape.' They appear once more. The oarsmen are fewer, and those who remain do not work as before. There are some killed and others wounded in the boat; the guns are silent; it is not worth while to fire upon the unfortunate boat. But the machine guns continue working-it is their gloomy fatel There are two Generals on the Electric Hill, and they are full of the martial instinct. One of them takes a rifle from a soldier, the same General who two hours ago spoke to us about two girl relatives to whom he had given shelter in his house. At the time we thought what a soft heart this man possesses. Now he is trying to get a correct aim. Crack! One of the oars ceases to work. The Japanese sailor who held it has dropped his head, and no longer moves. The laurels of this General raise the spirits of the other. General X has gained a reputation for the excellence of his rifle shooting. A soldier hands him a rifle. Crack! Another oar falls into the water, and the boat proceeds slowly forward. Another crack from each of the Generals. You can see through the binoculars how hard this unfortunate boat struggles for liberty. It is jerked forward as though it were seized with a deadly. convulsion. Then it stops. . . : Only three oars are working now-two then the boat commences to drift away. All the oarsmen have dropped their heads. One of them is looking into the water. What does he see there? The man with glazed eyes? One of the crew is lying alive in the bottom of the boat convulsed with agony. The current sends the boat shoreward, nearer and nearer the Electric Hill. 'Not one soul,' says Géneral Y. And the small quietly. It is brought to land, and remains stated, but it is thought that it will take the there. The water leaks through the bullet form either of a purchase of the port and the guns are silent—the batteries are at rest !"

The C. N. str. Chinhua arrived at Shanghai from Chefoo via Kiaochow last night, says the Mercury, and from inquiries made on board, we learn that there is a report current in Kiaochow that the Russian cruiser Czarewitch has been torpedoed somewhere in the vicinity of the foremast and that is given as the reason for her not having left the port. The foremast was struck below decks by a shell which has caused it to cant over to an angle of about four degress; the mast has been stayed on the starboard side with heavy tackles to prevent it from falling over the ship's side. There is one large shell hole in the starboard bow, this shot carried away half the bow. There is also four large shell holes on the starboard side and two big shell holes in the port side, one of these shells went into the wardroom and exploded and demolished everything within reach, besides wounding a number of men. The upper works have been completely riddled with small shells and the decks strewn with the wreckage. The after funnel was struck by a shell and the funnel casing has opened out like a sheet of paper, both the inner funnels were hit by shells and the shells in passing through have caused a piece of plate to fall right across the openings, and blocking up the ventilation so that it is impossible for the smoke to escape from the funnels and as a result the smoke now comes out through the between decks. Everything about the ship both on deck and below have been damaged by shot and shell fire. The flag of the Czarewitch was hauled down on Monday at noon, and all the men on board had a most dejected look. The torpedo boats that sought refuge in the harbour at the same time as the cruiser were to have left Kiaochow on Monday at 3 p.m., but shortly before that time they received orders to remain where they were as was considered too dangerous to venture outside the harbour.

On the way down on the 16th inst. the Chinkua was stopped outside Tsingtau by one of the Japanese warships (the Kasagt) cruising off that port, and her papers, etc. were examined after which she was allowed to proceed on her

BRITISH SQUIDRON READY

FOR ALL EMERGENCIES.

(From a Correspondent)

Weihaiwei, 11th August. The China squadron remains at Weihalwei with every precaution taken for any eventuality. The four-funnelled cruisers are riding at anchor at the main entrance just outside the harbour, and one small cruiser lies at the other approach, while the destroyers are constantly on the move in and out of the shipping and all over the place. Since the main fleet has been inside all practice shots have been stowed away, and live shell rest in the ready racks of all casemate guns. Furthermore, the ships are completed up with coal, and are prepared to take the sea at a moment's notice. It is not expected that there will be anything to do as affairs indi cate that Japan and Russia will settle the matter between themselves. Still, it is cheering to know that the British squadron has at Admiral who is well up to date and not likely to leave anything to chance. No doubt, we are making an evolution of being ready for whatever may transpire and are learning the lesson, taught by the present war, of being prepared for all things.

It is reported that, when going to the scaffold, the prisoner confessed to having killed another man some years back.

BRITAIN AND WEI-HAI-WEI.

RUMOURED PERPETUAL OCCUPATION.

We are indebted to a correspondent America for the following important statement respecting Wei-hai-wei, by the London correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, under date July 16:-

It is rumoured in political circles, that Great Britain, in view of the predicted early fall of Port Arthur, is on the point of concluding negotiation with China for the occupation is perpetuity of Wei-hai-wei. The exact natur boat with the dead bodies drifts along the shore of the reported transaction is not definitely holes in the stern, and the big waves push the adjacent landfor their acquisition by a ninetyboat forward on the white sand. The machine nine year lesse, renewable forever.

This report is credited by those especially well informed in East-Asiatic affairs. They point out that by the terms of Britain's tenure Wei-hai-wei reverts to China the moment Russian occupation of Port Arthur, and the Liaotung peninsula ceases. That Lord Lans downe, who will be compelled to deal with the situation, will do his utmost to prevent British evacuation of the port is considered certain-He is a tenacious imperialist and disapproves of surrender of political advantages in any part Britain and Russia or the interests of Britain and Germany are in juxtaposition.

Sir Ernest Satow, British Minister to China, also by the Chinese admiral previously. who is an aggressive defender of British possessions and prestige in the Far East, is likely to favour the recention of Weibaiwei at any cost. STATEMENT BY RUSSIAN CAPTAIN.

"About one o'clock in the morning several boats with a Japanese officer and about thirty. armed men approached my vessel. The officer came alongside and asked me if he might come aboard. I replied that I did not think that officers of nations which were fighting each other paid social visits, and asked him if he would he kind enough to tell me his business.

" He answered that he was under orders from the Japanese naval authorities to engage my vessel in a fight outside the harbour, or seize my ship and take my officers and men prisoners inside the harbour.

'I told him that we could not fight, as our vessel had been totally dismantled the preceding evening by the Chinese authorities; that all small arms and the breech blocks of our armament were in their possession; that our engines were disabled; and that we had placed ourselves under the orders of the Chinese Admiral; we were non-combatants, and were under his protection. That we had signed an agreement not to take up arms again.

"The conversation continued about an hour, my statement that we were in the hands of the Chinese being reiterated. There was alongside a boat with armed Chinese marines who were acting as a guard over us. The Japanese officer insisted that we would have to fight or be taken prisoners, and I finally told him that we could not fight, but that we would not be taken prisoners. With that I struck him in the face with my fist. He grabbed at me and we grappled, and a moment afterward we went overboard together. At the same time I shouted to my men to throw overboard anyone who might get on board.

"Immediately the Japanese in the boats began firing and many of them clambered aboard, where the firing continued; together with hand to hand encounters. I continued to struggle with the officer in the water, and made an effort to get on board. The Japanese who had gained the deck shot at me, and a bullet pierced my thigh. I realized that I would soon be too weak to attempt to regain my vessel in the face of the fire directed at me, but being a strong ,swimmer, I turned about and made for some junks a short distance away.

"I reached the junks all right, but the Chinese on board, apparently frightened by the firing, struck at me with bamboo poles and prevented me from getting out of the water.

14 I then turned in the direction of a steamer near by, which afterward proved to be a British merchant ship, and succeeded in getting on board, from where I was later removed to the Chinese cruiser.

"While I was swimming to the steamer, the Japanese in their boats came after me and fired "At the time the Japanese first approached my ship, I gave orders to one of my officers to go below and prepare to explode charges which would blow up the ship. He succeeded in placing two-charges in the engine room and one in the magazine, and an explosion occurr about the time of my encounter with the Japanese officer, causing considerable damage. don't think that the vessel will prove of much value to the Japanese, as I think the explosion caused sufficient damage to prevent her being towed very far.

"The boat from the Chinese man-of-war had been alongside with an armed guard since four o'clock the previous afternoon, the time when the dismantlement of my vessel was completed. This guard attempted to prevent the Japanese from molesting my ship, but the Japenese paid no attention to them, and were absolutely powerless to stop them from boarding the ship. "When the Japanese came aboard they

"Including myself, there were fifty-one persons on board my vessel-forty-seven men and four officers. Fifteen men are missing to-day. I think the explosion killed some of my men, and also some of the Japanese.

"This is a humiliating affair for me, and after I was wounded in the water, if I had a gun I would have killed myself."

"One torpedo boat then attached a tow rope to the Russian ship and started off. The flagship was informed, and when the torpedo boat and her tow passed, she was signalled to stop. The other torpedo toat circled around the Chinese cruisers, and ran alongside the flagship. They were then signalled that they must not leave the harbour with the Russian, at the same time the flagship being cleared for action, and the guns trained on the second torpedo boat. The latter replied that if she was fired on she would torpedo every Chinese cruiser in the harbour. The flagship answered that if they persisted in towing away the Russian, she would fire. The torpedo boat then promised that she would endeavour to overtake her companion, communicate the Admiral's messuge, and get her to return,

"She then steamed ahead, and in company, with the other boat and the tow, proceeded directly to sea.

"The Admiral intended to enforce his order, but was deceived by the lying statement of the second torpedo boat. He was also afraid that if he fired unnecessarily, he might injure merchant shipping,

"Undoubtedly the Japanese were fully cognizant of the dismantling of the Russian vessel, because the Admiral advised them twice early in the evening, and also advised the Japanese consul several times about the matter. The dismantling was completed, and guns loaded in my launch at half past 4 o'clock on the preceding afternoon. Unquestionably the Japanese heve committed a grave error."

FREIGHT.

Freight settlements for the past week have been effected on an improved basis, and the tendency of the market is, in favour of shipowners. One of the first charters of the period under review, since the 12th inst., was an Indo-China steamer of 1,536 tons Moji to Swatow at $2,30 per ton. Saigon to one port Philippines a small carrier obtained -28 cents per picul, while a German vessel (1,252 tons) secured 42 cents per picul from the French colony to Kobe or Yokohama. Thirty-seven cents per picul was the rate fixed by a German steamer (1,109 tons) from Tjilatjap to this. For sugar loading the rate has improved to 30 cents per picul 3 ports N. C. Java to Hongkong A British carrier was engaged at that rate. Several monthly charters have been fixed at the following rates, respectively, viz.:-

German steamer, 1,109 tons, 12 month at $6,500 per month. French steamer, 200 tons, 2/1 month at $3,000 per month.

German steamer, 1,252 tons, 4 months at $6,000 per month. German steamer, 966 tons, 6 months at $6,050 per month. Norwegian steamer, 891 tons, 6 months a $6,050 per month.

SHANGHAL FREIGHT.

In their report of 18th inst., Messrs. Wheelock & Co. (Shanghai) state: - Since last writing our homeward freight market has continued fairly active, and now that the green tea season is in full swing the next boats to load from here should receive good support.

We should draw the attention of New York shippers to the conference which has just been formed by the principal lines running to that port via Suez Canal, according to which agreement a rebate of 10 per cent, will be granted to all those who will have confined their support for the twelve months commencing from the 1st May, 1904, to such lines, viz., the "Hamburg-America Linie," "India Line, Ltd.", Messrs. Dodwell & Co. Ltd., Messrs. Shewan. Tomes & Co. "Standard Oil Co." and "Dampfschieffs Rhederei" Union A.G.

Coastwise.—Rates have continued to improve since last writing and promise to remain firm for some time to come as tonnage is decidedly scarce here at present. Coal freights from Japan to this have gone up to $1.50 with an upward tendency, and a fair demand exists in various directions.
